

The organizer of the jewelry exhibit at the festival for the last 15 years is the owner of Spoleto Gioielli, Enrico Morbidoni. Morbidoni owns two fine-jewelry stores and has helped choose which designers to invite based on their contributions to the fine-jewelry industry in the Umbria region. “Having K. Brunini be part of the festival helps further strengthen the bond between the Italian and American artists,” he says.